

FINE CELL WORK

Fine Cell Work is a registered charity that teaches needlework to prison inmates and sells their products. The earnings give the prisoners hope, skills and independence. Prisoners often send the money they earn to their children and families, or save it to pay debts or for accommodation on release.

The prisoners are taught by volunteers, many of whom have trained at the Embroiderers' Guild, the Royal School of Needlework and as professional designers. Once trained the prisoners can be responsible for difficult commissions to deadlines, and can support other inmates who are still learning. For more information visit: www.finecellwork.co.uk.

Fine Cell Work products will be on sale at Kettle Hill.

THE GILDED CAGE

INVITES YOU TO

A PUBLIC OPENING OF SCRIVELSBY FOLLY DOLLS' HOUSE

IN AID OF CHARITY

SATURDAY 1ST NOVEMBER

SUNDAY 2ND NOVEMBER

11AM – 4PM

ENTRANCE: £5 (CHILDREN UNDER 6 £3)

AT KETTLE HILL, BLAKENEY, NORFOLK NR25 7PN

This fine miniature country house, featured in Country Life, has recently been extended to include a new west wing and stables. Commissioned and decorated by Frances Winch, the house is a showcase for the art of trompe l'oeil, hand-painted wallpaper, fabulous furniture and objets d'art.

The whole ensemble will be on view at Kettle Hill as part of a charity fundraising event for the NORFOLK CAMPHILL COMMUNITY, for adults with special needs, and for FINE CELL WORK, the well-known charity which trains prisoners in fine embroidery and quilting.

Saturday's entertainments will include films and hog roast.

Sunday's entertainments will include puppet shows, films, hog roast and shellfish bar.

BOTH DAYS THERE WILL BE EXHIBITIONS, DEMONSTRATIONS AND CHRISTMAS SHOPPING OPPORTUNITIES!
